What Do You Notice?

What specifically do you notice in the text? (It could be anything that you can point out to someone else – words, phrases, sentences, punctuation. It could be anything that catches your attention, surprises you, confuses you.)

What do other people notice?

What more do you notice after you listen to other people and re-read?